Heartland

Nervous about using a new payroll provider?

We get it.

Heartland makes payroll onboarding quick, simple and intuitive.

Onboarding

Your onboarding team will review your accounts and determine whether your information is complete and ready for the implementation phase. If your information is complete, this process usually takes just one business day, although it can extend to a two- to three-day turnaround during peak times.

Implementation

Once the onboarding team finishes your review, your implementation specialist takes over to set up the account and install and balance wages. The specialist will also work with you to gather additional information, set up training, review reports and process your first payroll with Heartland.

After two or three successful payrolls, you'll be connected with your dedicated payroll specialist, who will become your single point of contact for all payroll matters going forward.

Throughout this process, your team of experts will be working to ensure that your first few payrolls with Heartland are successful, and so is every payroll going forward.
